WHEN YOU COLLECT THE CASH!

Products aren't hard to find. Just look around. Clothing that you or your kids have grown out of, old appliances or fashion accessories you no longer use; gifts you were given, but never used. Beginning as a reseller is easy because you don't have to look for product inventory, you're living with it.

Selling any items or inventory you have is easier than ever, thanks to eBay, Amazon, Craigslist and others. Instead of relying on expensive classified ads that reach a limited number of people in a defined geographic area, now can expose your items to tens of millions of people!

You've found products, you've sold those products to someone through an online platform. Congratulations! Now you can collect the cash and profit from your efforts. Now, you're a reseller entrepreneur.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Kevin McCormick is a reseller. He will attempt to resell anything he believes has any monetary value. He's been reselling most of his life, he just didn't know it was called reselling. Prior to discovering his reselling gift, Kevin had a more traditional corporate career, working at Chrysler for 12 years as a PR manager and Logistics systems project manager.

He is a native of Beckley, West Virginia and comes to Michigan by way of 9 different states. He is a proud graduate of Regis University in Denver, Colorado, and the University of Tennessee, where he received his MBA.

When not engaging in some reselling activity (which is rare), Kevin enjoys coaching football, watching football, watching NASCAR races, broadcasting sports events, producing his podcast, The McCormick View and spending time with his wife of 20 years and 3 children, who are 14, a very sassy 10 year old, and 8 years old. Follow him @TheMcView on Twitter, Instagram, and Periscope. He's also on Facebook & LinkedIn.
